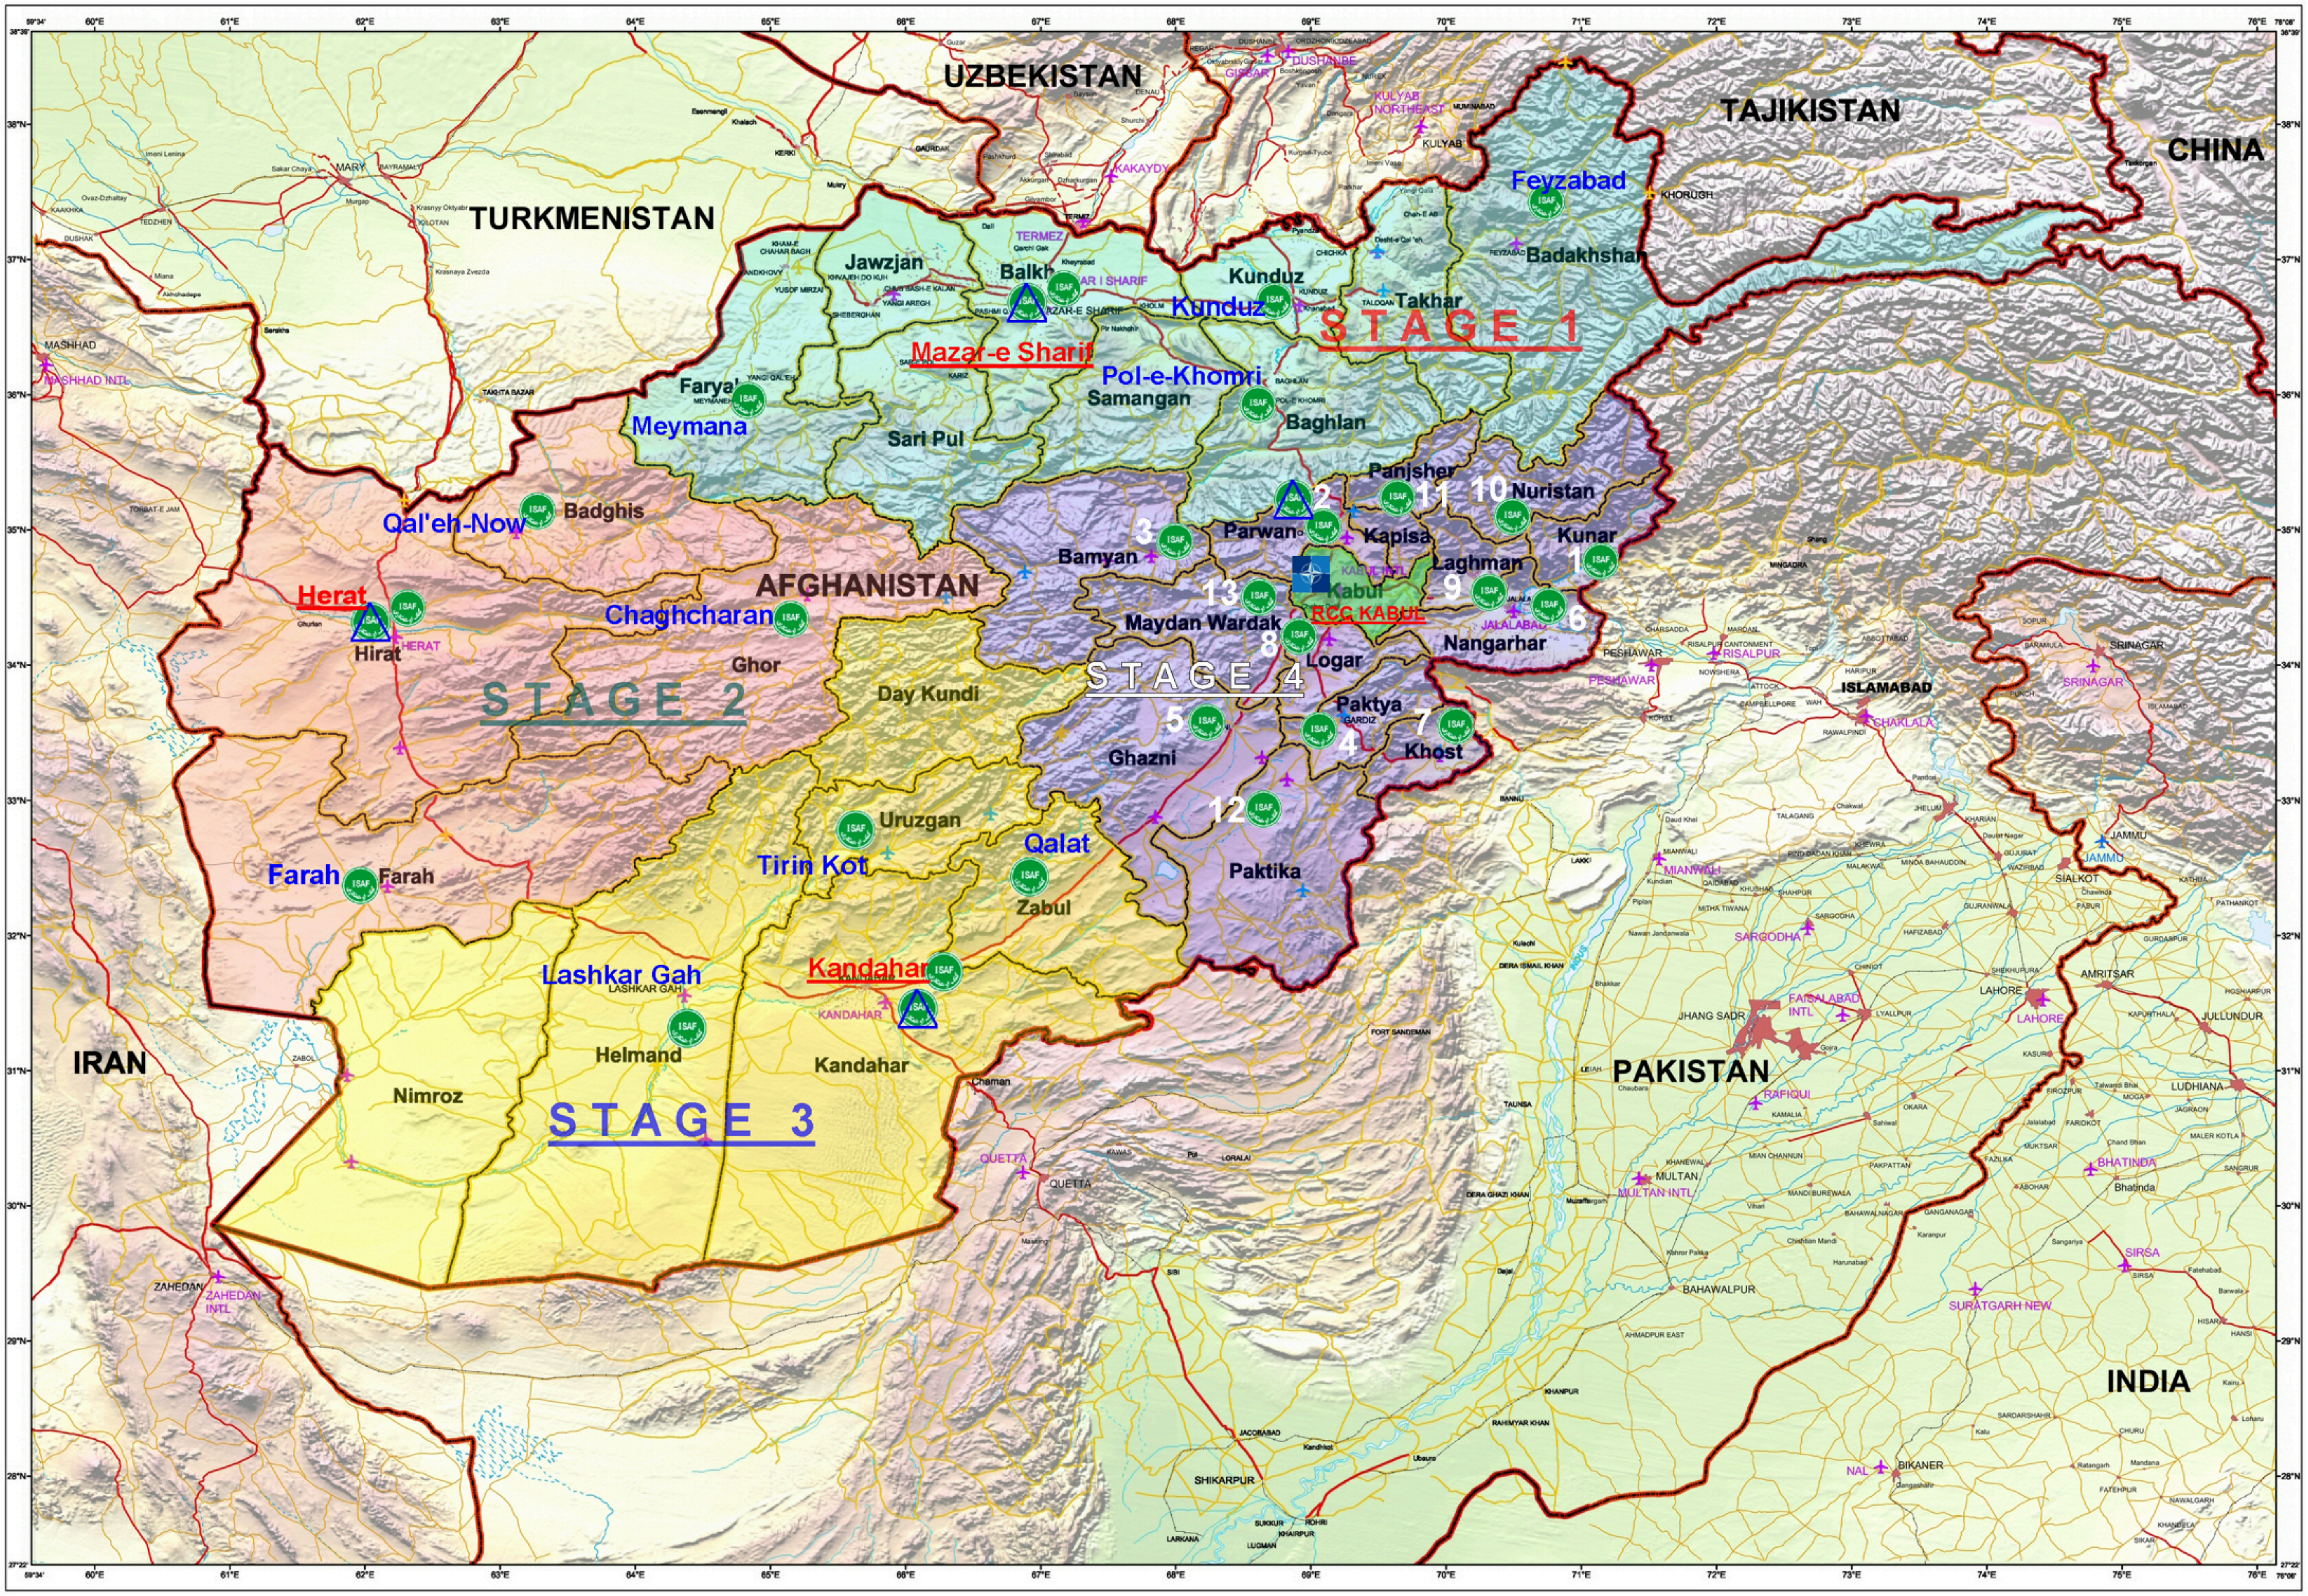
AFGHANISTAN: International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) - Provincial Reconstruction Teams (PRTs)



Orientation Map

Legend

Reg.Command	Herat
PRT Base	Farah
Boundaries
International boundary
Provincial boundary
Transportation
Primary road
Railway road
Airports (runway lenght in feet)
> 6000
3000 - 6000
Hydrography
Perennial River
Intermittent River
Lake; River
Intermittent Lake
Reservoir
Population
Built-up Area

N W E S

Miles 25 0 25 50 75 100 125 150 175 200

Kilometers 50 0 50 100 150 200 250 300

ISAF PRTs - 9th Edition

© 2008 NATO

Produced by SITCEN Geo Section and Public Diplomacy Division

Data valid as of 1 September 2008
Afghanistan Administrative Divisions as of August 2005

Warning
This graphic is for briefing purposes only and is not intended for navigation. The boundaries representation on this map must not be considered authoritative. Names on this map do not necessarily indicate official recognition of the political status of the areas concerned.

RCC (established on 6 August 2006)
Reg.Cmd. Capital: France
Regional Command Capital Kabul

STAGE 1 (completed October 2004)
Reg.Cmd. North (Mazar-e-Sharif): Germany
Existing PRTs — Existing Forward Support Base

STAGE 2 (completed September 2005)
Reg.Cmd. West (Herat): Italy
Existing PRTs — Existing Forward Support Base

STAGE 3 (completed July 2006)
Reg.Cmd. South (Kandahar): Canada
Existing PRTs — Existing Forward Support Base

STAGE 4 (completed October 2006)
Reg.Cmd. East (Bagram): U.S.A.
Existing PRTs — Existing Forward Support Base

STAGE 4 - PRTs

1. Asadabad (or Konar), (USA)
2. Bagram, (USA)
3. Bamyan (or Bamian), (NZL)
4. Gardez (or Gardiz), (USA)
5. Ghazni (USA)
6. Jalalabad (USA)
7. Khost (or Khowst), (USA)
8. Logar (or Lowgar), (CZE)
9. Mehtar Lam (or Laghman), (USA)
10. Nuristan or (Kalagush), (USA)
11. Panshir (or Panjshir), (USA)
12. Sharan (USA)
13. Wardak (TUR)