Typing errors in C-M(67)74: (The Harmel Report)

Unfortunately, a number of typing errors have crept into C-M(67)74:

(a) English version:

in paragraph 10, fifth line, the word
"however" should be preceded by a comma, ✓ not by a semi-colon;

in paragraph 16, third line, it must ✓
read: "in the years ahead";

(b) French version:

in paragraph 4, third line, the square ✓ brackets around "tâches" should be deleted;

in paragraph 5, first sub-paragraph, seventh line, there should be no closing bracket after "militaire";

in paragraph 5, second sub-paragraph, ninth line, the slant preceding "L'Alliance" ✓ should be corrected into an opening bracket;

in paragraph 10, fifth line, the word
"toutefois" should be surrounded by brackets. ✓

2. Could I have your views whether these misprints should lead to a corrigendum? Possibly one might combine it with the eventual information that the Italians have lifted their reservations or along with any eventual Italian amendments.
