

Partnership for Peace in 2004

Unlike the Euro-Atlantic Partnership Council (EAPC) which provides a general framework for political consultations to the 46 member states and partners, the Partnership for Peace (PfP) is based on bilateral relations between the Alliance and individual participating countries. It focuses chiefly on practical cooperation.

Turkey recognises the Republic of Macedonia with its constitutional name.

