

14 June 2010

Travel by Car

One of the basic principles guiding reimbursements lays in the fact that all expenses must be backed-up by receipts or invoices issued by third parties. This means that car travel expenses will not be reimbursed unless receipts, are provided (eg. receipts for fuel and accommodation invoices).