

The NATO Science for Peace and Security Programme

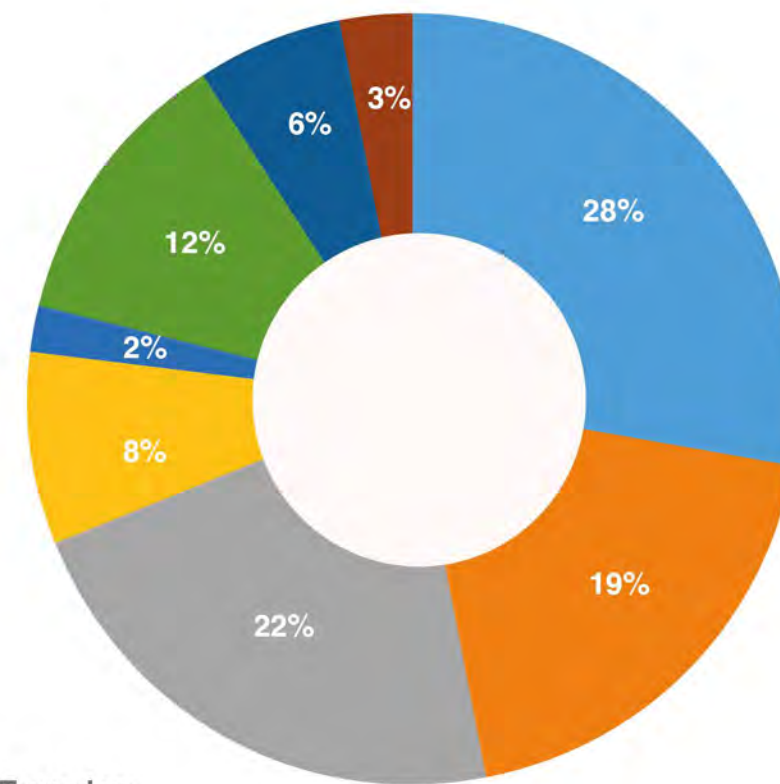

Science for Peace and Security (SPS) Programme Cooperation with Mediterranean Dialogue Countries

1056 international experts have participated in SPS activities since 1994

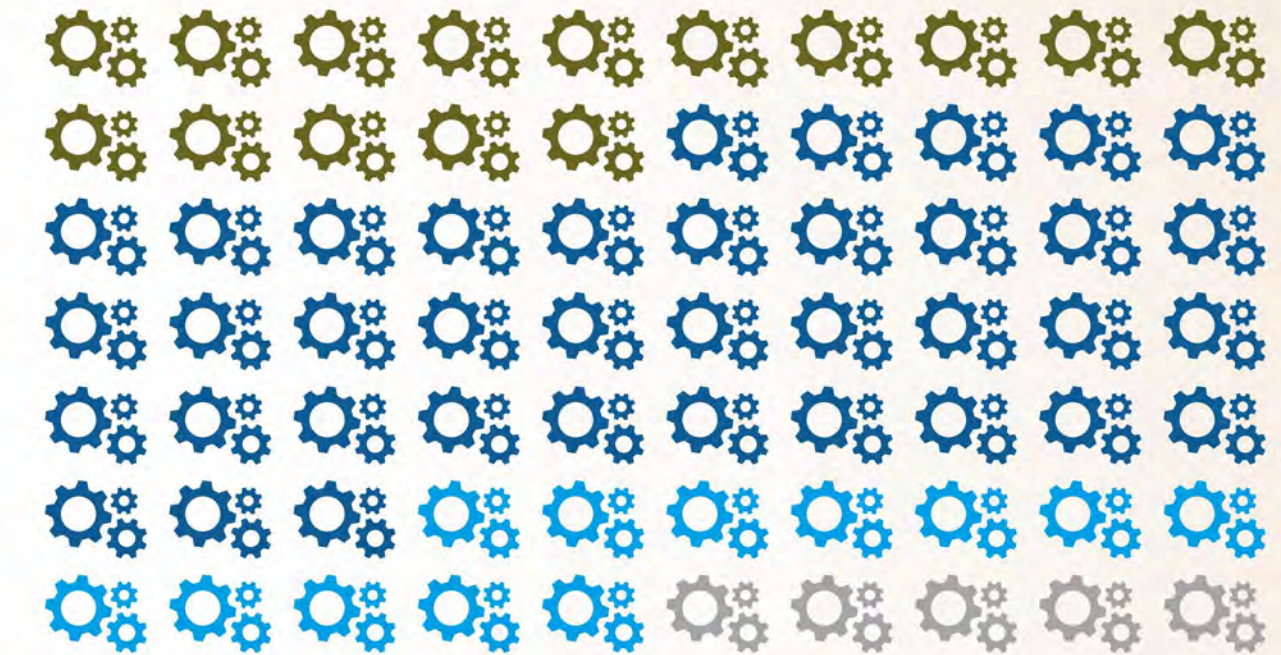

728 young scientists received the opportunity to pursue research in their field of interest
60 stipends to kick-start academic careers

SPS Activities with the Mediterranean Dialogue Countries According to SPS Key Priority Areas approved in 2012.

- Counter-Terrorism
- Cyber Defence
- CBRN
- Environmental Security
- Operations
- Advanced technologies
- Unexploded Ordnance (UXO) Management
- Human and Social

528 activities since 1994

101 Multi-year Research Projects
295 Advanced Research Workshops
94 Study Advanced Institutes
38 Advanced Training Courses

