

NATO Mission Iraq (NMI)

At the NATO Summit in Brussels in July 2018, Allied leaders launched NATO Mission Iraq, following a request and upon invitation from the Government of Iraq. The mission was established in Baghdad in October 2018. Its current commander is Lieutenant General Giovanni Iannucci from Italy.

NATO Mission Iraq is a non-combat advisory and capacity-building mission that assists Iraq in building more sustainable, transparent, inclusive and effective security institutions and forces, so that they themselves are able to stabilize their country, fight terrorism, and prevent the return of Daesh.

To achieve this, NATO advises relevant Iraqi defence and security officials in the Ministry of Defence, Office of the National Security Advisor, and Prime Minister's National Operations Centre. The mission also advises Iraq's professional military education institutions in the greater Baghdad area. Iraqi authorities have identified a number of primary objectives for cooperation with NMI. These include security education, logistics, cyber defence, and good governance.

In February 2021, NATO Defence Ministers decided to expand the NATO mission, following a request by the Iraqi government. Any expansion of our mission will be incremental and upon Iraqi request. All efforts of NATO Mission Iraq are carried out with the consent of the Iraqi government and conducted in full respect of Iraq's sovereignty and territorial integrity.

As they operate in a non-combat mission, NATO personnel do not deploy alongside Iraqi forces during their operations. The Mission only advises members of the Iraqi security institutions and forces who are under the direct control of the Government of Iraq. Throughout its activities, NATO Mission Iraq promotes inclusiveness, gender awareness and respect for international humanitarian law and human rights.

All thirty NATO members and three partner nations (Australia, Finland and Sweden) contribute to NATO Mission Iraq. Currently, the mission consists of several hundred military and civilian advisors and support elements.

NATO complements the broader international effort to help Iraq eradicate terrorism and promote stability. NATO Mission Iraq coordinates with other stakeholders, such as Operation Inherent Resolve, the United Nations, and the European Union Assistance Mission. NATO as an institution is also a member of the Global Coalition to Defeat ISIS/ Daesh.
