

Equipping and Sustaining the Afghan National Army (ANA)

ANA Trust Fund

The Afghanistan National Army (ANA) Trust Fund was created in 2007 to provide a mechanism for ISAF nations to support the following activities:

- transportation and installation costs for equipment donations by ISAF nations to the ANA;
- purchase of ANA equipment and services for engineering projects;
- in-and out-of-country training.

In March 2009, the scope of the ANA Trust Fund was expanded to support the long-term sustainment of the ANA.

The ANA Trust Fund represents a collective effort by ISAF nations and is open for contributions by the broader International Community. As of early April 2013, the total amount of contributions and pledges to the current ANA Trust Fund is almost 600 million EUR.

At the NATO Summit in Chicago in May 2012, NATO Allies and ISAF nations agreed that, as part of the International Community and building upon existing mechanisms, they would play their part in developing appropriate, coherent and effective funding mechanisms and expenditures arrangements for all strands of the Afghan National Security Forces. They agreed that such mechanisms would have to be flexible, transparent, accountable, and cost effective and would need to include measures against corruption.

Currently, work is ongoing to adapt the existing NATO run Trust Fund to continue beyond 2014 as one of the funding streams envisaged to channel pledged funding support by the International Community towards the Afghan National Security Forces.
