1. Turkey initially requested humanitarian assistance for Syrian refugees in Turkey through the EADRCC on 13 April 2012. Based on document OPS(EADRCC)(2012)0046, EADRCC started to coordinate support to Turkish authorities. A final report regarding Syrian refugees in Turkey was published on 17 December 2013, and was based on the information provided by Turkish side to the EADRCC. However, in 2014, the number of Syrian refugees in 22 temporary protection centres had reached up to 220.000 people, while the number of Syrians outside these centres was estimated to be around 800.000 people. In light of this, Turkey decided to resubmit an international call for humanitarian assistance on 30 June 2014. The following information was provided.

2. General Situation:

Type of the Disaster : Flow of Syrian refugees into Turkey
Date and Time the Disaster occurred : During last five years
Location of the Disaster : Turkish side of the Syrian border

3.2. According to ECHO Factsheet as at March 2016, the overwhelming influx of refugees into Turkey has reached over 3.1 million registered, making Turkey the largest host of refugees in the world. In 2016, some 126 166 people have arrived through Turkey to Greece by sea. 91% come from the world's top 10 refugee-“producing” countries. About 90% of Syrian refugees in Turkey remain outside of camp settings with limited access to basic services.

3.3. According to Reuters news agency, after a third meeting on the refugee crisis held on 18 March, Turkey and European Union reconfirmed their commitment to the implementation of their joint action plan.

3.4. On 1 April 2016, the UN Refugee Agency called on all parties to the recent agreement between the European Union and Turkey on refugees and migrants to ensure all "safeguards" are in place before any returns from Greece to Turkey begin.

3.5. According to ECHO Factsheet as at April 2016, the total funding provided by the EU to Turkey in response to the Syria Crisis since the beginning of the crisis, including humanitarian aid as well as longer-term assistance, amounts to over 445 million euros. Of this amount, 161 million euros is humanitarian funding. The EU has launched the Refugee Facility for Turkey to deliver efficient and complementary support to Syrian and other refugees and host communities in close cooperation with Turkish authorities. The Facility provides a joint coordination mechanism for actions financed by the EU budget and national contributions made by the Member States, designed to ensure that the needs of refugees and host communities are addressed in a comprehensive and coordinated manner. The resources of the Facility will come from the EU budget and from EU Member States over 2016 and 2017, making a total so far of 3 billion euros over two years.

3.6. According to European Commission's press release as at 26 May 2016, the European Commission is delivering on its commitment to accelerate the implementation of the Facility for Refugees in Turkey by announcing a further 47 million euros in new projects, bringing the total amount contracted under the Facility to address the immediate needs of refugees and host communities in Turkey so far to almost 240 million euros. 20 million euros have been committed under the Instrument contributing to Stability and Peace (IcSP) to enhance the capacity of the Turkish Coast Guard to carry out search and rescue operations. An additional 27 million euros will fund educational infrastructure, skills training and social support for Syrian refugees under the EU Regional Trust Fund in Response to the Syrian Crisis. This new commitment is part of the accelerated implementation of the Facility for Refugees in Turkey which was agreed under the EU-Turkey Statement of 18 March.

3.7. Social Protection. According to ECHO Factsheet as at April 2016, the European Commission and its Members States are funding the "Refugee Facility for Turkey" which will provide 3 billion euros for humanitarian and development projects in 2016 and 2017. In March and April 2016 a first package of 90 million euros under the Facility had been contracted for humanitarian aid.

3.8. Health. According to ECHO Factsheet as at January 2016, a priority sector for the Commission's humanitarian funds is the health sector, especially physical rehabilitation/post-operative care for war wounded, and primary health care services in acutely under-served areas, including since 2015 the western coast of Turkey. In partnership with the World Health Organization, the Commission is supporting the training and integration of qualified Arabic-speaking Syrian doctors into the Turkish Healthcare system. Over 10% of ECHO funding to date has contributed to this sector.

According to an AFAD report from 4 April 2016, there are 289 physicians and 250 health care staff in TPCs:

HEALTHCARE

In TPCs		Countrywide healthcare services
Physicians	Healthcare staff	Policlinics	Referrals to hospitals	Hospitalized	Births	Surgeries
289	250	16.746.756	918.694	815.430	151.746	686.861

3.9. Education is one of the most complicated problems that faces the Syrian refugees outside camps.

According to ECHO Factsheet as at April 2016, UNHCR estimates that more than half of the Syrian refugees are children, and according to UNICEF, 74% of them are not attending school.

According to EU press release as at 11 May 2016, the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), in cooperation with its partners from British Council, Campus France and EP-Nuffic, has launched a new programme to provide Syrian refugees in Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Egypt the opportunity to gain access to further and higher education. In addition to reaching up to 42,000 young Syrians through academic counselling, the project will provide language courses and short-term study programmes to more than 7,500 student refugees and award more than 300 full scholarships to Syrian refugees in the region. A total of 12 million euros has been allocated for this purpose until 2019. The programme is financed by the EU Regional Trust Fund in Response to the Syrian Crisis, the ‘Madad Fund’. It recently started on April 26, 2016

According to an AFAD report from 27 May 2016, there are 83.443 students and 3061 teachers in TPCs:

EDUCATION

Students				Teachers			Vocational Trainings
							Ongoing Trainees	Completed
In TPCs	Public schools	TECs*	Total	In TPCs	Outside TPCs	Total		Courses	Trainees

5. Assistance provided by Allied and partner nations and International organizations:

5.1 Luxembourg has offered 80 family tents on 18 August 2014.

5.2 According UNHCR «Global Appeal 2015 Update», for the last five years, UNHCR's Turkey operational budget has steadily increased from USD 17.7 million in 2010 to USD 320.16 million in 2015. This increase is primarily due to the influx of refugees from neighboring countries, including people displaced by the Syrian crisis and developments in Iraq. Of the comprehensive needs-based budget of USD 320.16 million for 2015, USD 291.8 million corresponds to the planned activities to provide support to Syrian refugees, and USD 28.37 million for other people of concern. In light of the evolving situations in Iraq and Syria, any changes in requirements will be presented in the 2015 Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP) for the Syria situation, and in a supplementary appeal for the Iraq situation.
