1. Turkey initially requested humanitarian assistance for Syrian refugees in Turkey through the EADRCC on 13 April 2012. Based on document OPS(EADRCC)(2012)0046, EADRCC started to coordinate support to Turkish authorities. A final report regarding Syrian refugees in Turkey was published on 17 December 2013, and was based on the information provided by Turkish side to the EADRCC. However, in 2014, the number of Syrian refugees in 22 temporary protection centres had reached up to 220.000 people, while the number of Syrians outside these centres was estimated to be around 800.000 people. In light of this, Turkey decided to resubmit an international call for humanitarian assistance on 30 June 2014. The following information was provided.

2. As a result of discussions among NATO International Staff, the Delegation of the Republic of Turkey to NATO and Turkish Authorities, it was decided to temporarily close this request for international assistance. Depending on the development of the migrant situation a new request for international assistance could be made.

3. The Government of the Republic of Turkey expresses gratitude to all countries that provided humanitarian assistance.

5.2. According to UNHCR information as 1 September 2016, to formalize and strengthen UNHCR's long-standing cooperation, Foreign Minister Mevlüt Çavuşoğlu and High Commissioner Grandi signed a Host Country Agreement.

5.3. According to UNHCR information as 6 January 2017, 3PR Turkey Country Chapter launched in Ankara with the Government of Turkey, the UN agencies and its partners as well as the participation of the media.

5.4. According to UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) information as 31 March 2017, the sixth Steering Committee meeting of the EU Facility for Refugees in Turkey took place in Brussels to report on the progress made to date. They discussed the latest projects to support refugees, in particular the recently launched €34 million Conditional Cash Transfer for Education project with UNICEF and a €5 million contract with the NGO Spark which will increase participation and equal access to higher education of vulnerable Syrian youth. Furthermore, seven new humanitarian projects worth €41.6 million have also been launched focusing on protection and access to health. So far out of the overall €3 billion allocated to the Facility, more than half has already been contracted in less than a year. Contracts have been signed for 46 projects in total worth over €1.5 billion, out of which €777 million has been disbursed so far to support refugees.

5.5. Health. According to an AFAD report from 23 October 2017, there are 161 physicians and 214 health care staff in TPCs:

HEALTHCARE

In TPCs		Countrywide healthcare services
Physicians	Healthcare staff	Policlinics	Referrals to hospitals	Hospitalized	Births	Surgeries
161	214	25.919.750	918.694	1.143.393	224.750	953.466

5.6. Education is one of the most complicated problems that faces the Syrian refugees outside camps.

5.6.1 According to ECHO Factsheet as at January 2017, education in emergencies has also been identified as one of the priority areas for humanitarian aid. This is done through support to non-formal education and school transportation. In addition, the Commission is developing a plan to provide Education assistance through the ESSN, aimed at increasing enrolment and improving attendance for the most vulnerable children.

5.6.2 According to an AFAD report from 23 October 2017, there are 508.846 students and 13.643 teachers in TPCs:

EDUCATION

Students				Teachers			Courses
In TPCs	Public schools	Temporary Education Centers	Total	Turkish	Syrian	Total	Vocational	General
80.742	183.000	245.104	508.846	1.013	12.630	13.643	75.902	146.967

5.6.3. Building on the ESSN, the European Union and UNICEF are now rolling out the Conditional Cash Transfer for Education (CCTE) project in Turkey. The EU commitment of €34 million will fund bimonthly cash transfers to vulnerable refugee families whose children attend school regularly. The project also includes a child protection component to ensure the most vulnerable refugee children continue to attend school and to ensure they receive complementary child protection services when needed. These projects are complemented by a series of other aid projects that have been launched in 2016 and 2017.

6. Food. According to UNHCR information as 19 October 2016, WFP is currently assisting 282,000 vulnerable Syrian refugees with its e-food card programme, jointly implemented with TRC in the South-East of Turkey. WFP, together with the TRC and the MoFSP, is preparing to roll-out the Emergency Social Safety Net, a multi-purpose cash assistance scheme.

6.1. According to Regional Refugee & Resilience Plan 2017-2018, the strong partnership between the Food Security Sector, the Turkish Red Crescent (TRC) and the Disaster and Emergency Management Presidency (AFAD) has been instrumental in this process. Through the electronic voucher programme, since 2012, WFP/AFAD/ TRC/MoFSP reached 150,000 Syrians in 11 camps with 100 Turkish lira (TL) per month (50TL from WFP/TRC and 50TL from AFAD) and 130,000 Syrians in five provinces with 62 TL per month, effectively covering 100 percent of their food needs.

6.2. According to ECHO Factsheet as at July 2017, the flagship humanitarian programme funded by the EU in 2017 is the Emergency Social Safety Net (ESSN), a debit card based social assistance scheme that will allow up to 1.3 million of the most vulnerable refugees to meet their most pressing basic needs. With initial financing of €348 million from the EU, the implementing partner, the World Food Programme, in collaboration with the Turkish Red Crescent and Turkish government institutions, is distributing electronic debit cards to refugee families through which payments are made directly to families.

6.3 Luxembourg has offered 80 family tents on 18 August 2014.
