What is NATO?

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) is the world's most successful Political-Military organization. It was established on 4 April 1949 by the North Atlantic Treaty and has its headquarters in Brussels, Belgium.

NATO is an alliance of 28 member nations that provide for their collective defence and security. NATO members make decisions on the basis of consensus.

NATO partners with other nations that are not members of the Alliance. Examples of partnering are the Partnership for Peace (PfP), the Mediterranean Dialogue and the Istanbul Cooperation Initiative. Partnering arrangements are tailored to the specific needs and interest of nations.

Iraq and NTM-I

In accordance with UN Security Council Resolution 1546, the NATO Training Mission-Iraq (NTM-I) was set up in 2004 at the request of the Iraqi Interim Government. NTM-I is not a combat mission. It provides training, mentoring, and advice to the Iraqi Security Forces, in order to contribute to the development of Iraqi training institutions, to build effective and sustainable multi-ethnic security forces.

On July 26th, 2009, the Minister of Defense of the Republic of Iraq signed an agreement on behalf of the Government of Iraq with NATO which provides the legal basis for the continuation of the NATO Training Mission in Iraq. The Mission has been further extended by the North Atlantic Council until 2013 on the formal request made by the Prime Minister of the Republic of Iraq.

Iraq and NATO have established effective partnerships to enhance the training and education of the Iraq Security Forces. This includes provision of training to the Iraqi Federal Police by the Italian Carabinieri, advice and mentoring to the Defence University for Military Studies, the Ministerial Training Development Centre, the Basic Tactical Training Directorate and access to a range of courses at centres of excellence located in NATO member countries. NTM-I also provided mentoring and advice to the Prime Minister's National Operations Centre, the Iraqi Ministry of Interior National Command Centre and the Iraqi Ministry of Defence Joint Operations Centre which achieved their self sustainability in 2010. The 1st Military Academy in Ar Rustamiyah was also declared self-sustainable in August 2011.

NTM-I has the lead for supporting the development of the Iraqi Doctrine and Training Management.
