BAHRAIN

Bahrain is engaged with NATO and the Science for Peace and Security (SPS) Programme through the Istanbul Cooperation Initiative (ICI) partnership framework, which was launched in 2004. At present, there are no ongoing SPS activities with Bahrain.

THE SPS PROGRAMME IS OPEN TO ACTIVITIES WITH BAHRAIN

The SPS Programme is open to all activities with Bahrain in line with the political guidance from Allies established via the SPS Key Priorities and the 2018-2020 Individual Partnership and Cooperation Programme (IPCP) between NATO and the Kingdom of Bahrain.

THE ISTANBUL COOPERATION INITIATIVE

The Istanbul Cooperation Initiative (ICI) focuses on practical cooperation in areas where NATO can add value, notably in the security field. Initially, six countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council were invited to participate. To date, four of these – Bahrain, Qatar, Kuwait, and the United Arab Emirates – have joined. Saudi Arabia and Oman have also shown an interest in the Initiative. Based on the principle of inclusiveness, the Initiative is however open to all interested countries of the broader Middle East region who subscribe to its aims and content, including the fight against terrorism and the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction.

The ICI is a ‘two-way’ partnership, in which NATO seeks partners’ contribution for its success, through a regular consultation process, where special emphasis is placed on practical cooperation. The SPS Programme is an excellent basis for such practical and concrete partnership activities.
